Job Description

Live-In Nanny
 Home child care providers

View description

Home child care providers care for children on an ongoing or short-term basis. They care for the well-being and physical and social development of children, assist parents with child care and may assist with household duties. They provide care primarily in their own homes or in the children's homes, where they may also reside. They are employed by private households and child-care agencies, or they may be self-employed.

- Perform light housekeeping and cleaning duties
- Perform full household responsibilities in the absence of parent
- Supervise and care for children in employer's or own residence
- Travel with family on trips and assist with child supervision
- Provide support that teaches children personal hygiene and social development
- Plan, prepare and serve meals for children and may perform other duties
- Oversee children's activities, such as meals and rest periods, as instructed by employer
- Maintain a safe and healthy environment in the home
- Provide age-appropriate educational training through organized activities such as games, crafts, reading and outings
- Take children to and from school and appointments
- May be required to keep records of daily activities and health information regarding each child.
- Experience working with children with disability is an asset
